

TWO LAKES SCRIPT

Voice Over/Speak: Christoffer Evan Ansel

It used to be so quiet around the Two Lakes. It is still rather peaceful at "Kartoffelrækkerne". But nowadays, the place is mostly crowded with young punks, prams, graffiti and birds.

First of all, "Dronning Louises Bro" has become the epicenter for drinking and partying. Back in the day, people would work hard, and THEN enjoy a well-deserved "Tuborg". But, they don't know the meaning of hard work. Sitting on the benches on any sunny day with their beers and loud music. Whatever.

The "speltmødre", or organic mommy mafia, strolling around the Two Lakes, and drinking their fancy coffee drinks with weird milk at "Kaffeplantagen". What's wrong with a cup of black coffee!?

Anyway. There are lots of wonderful statues that overlook the Two Lakes. But I despise the graffiti, and don't care much for the strange paintings. Whoever did it, are not artists. They are all vandals who have no respect for their surroundings.

And the birds. Don't get me started on the birds. They have invaded the Two Lakes! They even have their own goddam island. So-called "fugleøen". The birds squawk and poop all over the place. Seagulls, swans, ducks and pigeons. Can't they just fly away?!

SIGH

Despite all of this, the Two Lakes are the best place to go for a long walk, followed by a good beer at the Barking Dog.
